

CONTENTS
SPORTING EXPERTISE
A Festschrift in honour of Dr. Janet Starkes
(Chief Editors: Joseph Baker e Nicola J. Hodges)

PART I

Introduction

- Foreword . . . . . 481
Joseph Baker and Nicola J. Hodges

Characteristics of Expertise

- The nature of the cognitive advantage: A quarter of a century later . . . . 486
April Karlinsky, Keith R Lohse, and Nicola J Hodges
- Examining the stability and specificity of pattern recall in team handball . . 513
Markus Raab, and Damian Farrow
- Expertise differences in quiet eye duration and performance in surgical knot tying . . . . . 528
Joan N. Vickers, Adrian Harvey, Ryan Snelgrove, Andrew Stewart, Gina Arsenault, and Claire Mackenzie
- Tennis match time series do not exhibit long term correlations . . . . . 542
Han Eol Kim, Fuwen Cai, Joong Hyun Ryu, Jeffrey M. Haddad, and Howard N. Zelaznik

Perceptual-cognitive training

- An evaluation of video-based training programs for perceptual-cognitive skill development: A systematic review of current sport-based knowledge . . . . 555
Paul Larkin, Christopher Mesagno, Michael Spittle, and Jason Berry
- “Can we hasten expertise by video simulations?” considerations from an ecological psychology perspective . . . . . 587
Matt Dicks, John Van Der Kamp, Rob Withagen, and Johan Koedijker
- Hastening the acquisition of perceptual skill in volleyball players . . . . . 608
Jörg Schorer, Rebecca Rienhoff, Lennart Fischer, Ilka Overbeck, Christel Weiss, and Joseph Baker

International Journal of Sport Psychology

VOL. 46 - N. 6 - NOVEMBER-DECEMBER 2015

CO-EDITORS: JOANNE BUTT and JIA-YI CHOW

SPORTING EXPERTISE
A Festschrift in honour of Dr. Janet Starkes
Chief Editors: Joseph Baker e Nicola J. Hodges
PART I

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF SPORT PSYCHOLOGY - VOL. 46 - N. 6 - NOVEMBER-DECEMBER 2015

Bimestrale - Tariffa R.O.C. - Poste Italiane S.p.A. - Spedizione in abb. post. - D.L. 353/2003 (conv. in L. 27/02/04 n. 46) art. 1 comma 1 - DOB di Roma

EDIZIONI LUIGI POZZI - ROME

ISSN: 0047-0767

GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. General

The International Journal of Sport Psychology publishes empirical and theoretical contributions in the human movement sciences from all over the world. Manuscripts related to psychology, sport pedagogy, exercise and sport performance are suited to the Journal's scope.

IJSP's aims are to disseminate results of rigorous and relevant studies, to expose positions and commentaries regarding the development of theory and confirmation or contradiction of previous findings. IJSP entertains various methodologies, encompassing coherence among epistemology, research questions, tools, statistical or clinical analyses and discussion or potential applications. Qualitative and quantitative analyses as well as case studies are of interest when appropriately used. IJSP is comprised of the following sections related to human movement sciences.

1. Motor learning and control
2. Cognition
3. Health and exercise
4. Social psychology
5. Intervention / Clinical / Counseling psychology

2. Manuscript guidelines

Manuscripts should be written in English, and conform to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th Edition, 2001).

Manuscripts must be original and not submitted for publication to any other journal at the same time. Authors of manuscripts accepted for publication must transfer copyright to Edizioni Luigi Pozzi.

1. Position statements, theoretical re-interpretations and multi-experiment papers should not exceed 30 pages inclusive.
2. Brief reports (empirically-based communications or commentaries) should not exceed 15 pages.
3. Research notes. These submissions should not exceed 5 pages. They may present some initial findings, methodological issues or stimulating data from initial pilot work.
4. Letters to the editors.

Authors should strive to make their contribution as precise and concise as possible.

While in reviewing process, the manuscript should not be submitted for publication to another source at the same time. When published, the article can not be published again in another book or journal.

3. How to Prepare the Manuscript

Manuscript should be submitted to the editor by the website to: www.ijsp-online.com Telephone, facsimile and E-mail addresses (if available) should be noted on the 1st page of the manuscript. Keywords 3-5 according Index Medicus should be included at the end of the abstract. It is advisable that authors should keep a copy of the manuscript to themselves since the original copies will not be returned.

Theoretical manuscripts do not follow this format. However, a logical development of the issues discussed should be followed, and appropriate «section titles» be given.

Since the review process is blind, DO NOT forget to attach the title page to the manuscript, excluding names and addresses after the first page.

Multiple authors should be listed in order. For each of the authors, the following information should be given: Department/Institution or Company, Full Address, Telephone/Facsimile/Email (if available). A special note to whom the editors correspond should be clearly stated on the first page. Grants or special thanks associated with the work should also be included on the bottom of the first title page.

Any change of address should be notified immediately. Please give your name and new and old address.

4. Reprints

The publisher provides reprints to authors at cost. The cost depends on the number of pages in the final publication and the number of reprints asked by the authors. An order form with a price-table is attached to the galley proofs submitted to authors for correction. Reprints should be ordered prior to publication. Post-publication orders cannot be filled at regular reprint rates.

5. Labelling Subjects & Use of Terms

Protection & Labelling of Research Participants

The IJSP Editorial Board requires that all appropriate steps be taken to obtain the informed consent of all human subjects participating in the research of investigators submitting manuscripts for review and possible publication. The author need not describe in the manuscript the specific steps taken to obtain informed consent; however, the author must indicate by a phrase that «informed consent was obtained from the participants», or similar statement.

Descriptive categories such as male-female, black-white, Jewish-Christian, high achievers-low achievers, and emotionally disturbed-normals are sometimes used to label participants. Authors must be careful that the construct label selected to identify a group of human subjects is a valid, descriptive term that can be documented as accepted, current, professional terminology.

6. Tables and illustrations

The number of figures and tables is to be kept to a minimum.

Each table should be typed on a separate page. Tables should be self-explanatory, supplementing but not duplicating the text. A brief title should be provided for each. Abbreviations used in tables should be defined.

Illustrations should be numbered in the order in which they are first mentioned in the text and included in the text sent by the website. They should be marked on the back to indicate the first author's name, the figure number and the top edge.

7. Ethics

The IJSP Editorial Board requires that authors strictly follow ethical guidelines from their country or state.

Submissions must comply with appropriate inoffensive language standards.

8. Checklist for submission

1. Cover letter
2. Original manuscript - First page [Title of article, Name of Author(s), affiliation, running head, e-mail address of lead author, grant and thanks]
Each section should be separated by a page break:
  - Abstract (150 words)
  - Body of the manuscript
  - References
  - Tables and figures
  - Captions
3. Blind copy of the manuscript (delete first page, remove authors' information from the properties box of the electronic document)